1966—our second senior class—our second EVERGREEN. Much has happened in the short year between publications. We have a superb track team (including the state record for the half mile), one of the finest debate teams in the state, and one of the best speakers in the country. St. Joseph's is now well-known throughout the state, with headline-makers in many activities. But St. Joseph's is more than boys winning races or debates. St. Joseph's is the little things that don't make the headlines: a Confraternity clothing drive, a thriving intramural program, and most of all a group of dedicated men striving to educate the future leaders of our country. THE EVERGREEN is another part of this complex system, trying to present an enduring record of what our school is, and what it does, as well as what it accomplishes. With this in mind, the class of 1966 presents

The Evergreen 1966

One of the unchanging and vital personalities of St. Joseph's is Brother George. In over a half century of service to God in the Brothers of the Sacred Heart, Brother George has fulfilled superlatively a variety of assignments: Christian educator, Postulant Master, Principal, Vocational Director. Although our paths cross infrequently, to every St. Joseph's student Brother George mirrors the qualities and attitudes our teachers are constantly presenting to our eyes, especially the image of a manly piety and a genuine selflessness. The Brothers' residence has long been the beneficiary of his unceasing toil; the poor of Middlesex county have been the recipient of his unflagging charity; we as students have been privileged to be intimately associated with a veritable man of God. He is the kind of man we are all striving to become. For us he concretizes the Christian ideal of manhood. To Brother George then we dedicate affectionately and gratefully our EVERGREEN '66.

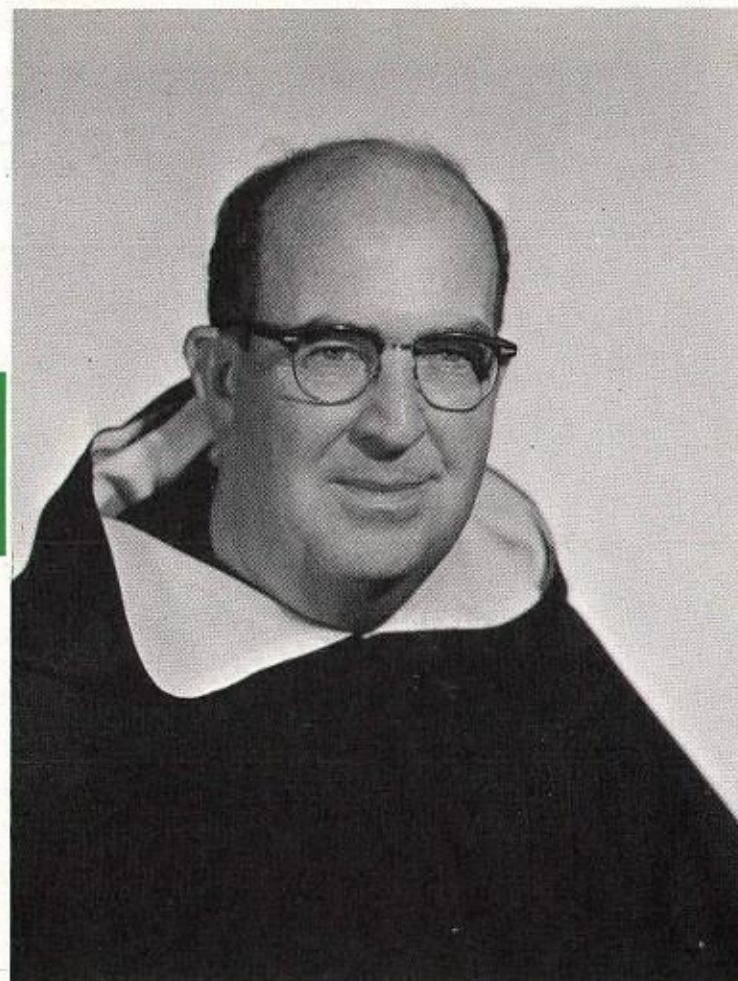

His Holiness
Pope Paul VI

HIS EXCELLENCY,

George W. Ahr
Bishop of Trenton

OUR CHAPLAIN,

Father Anderson, O.P.

OUR PROVINCIAL

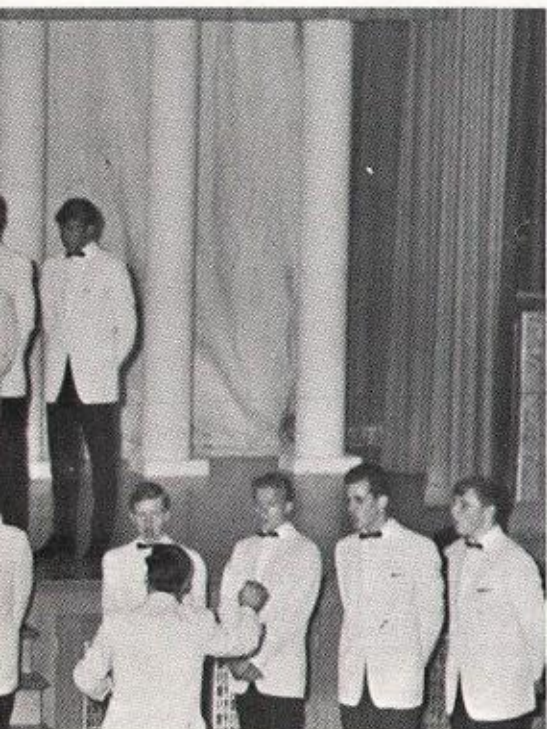

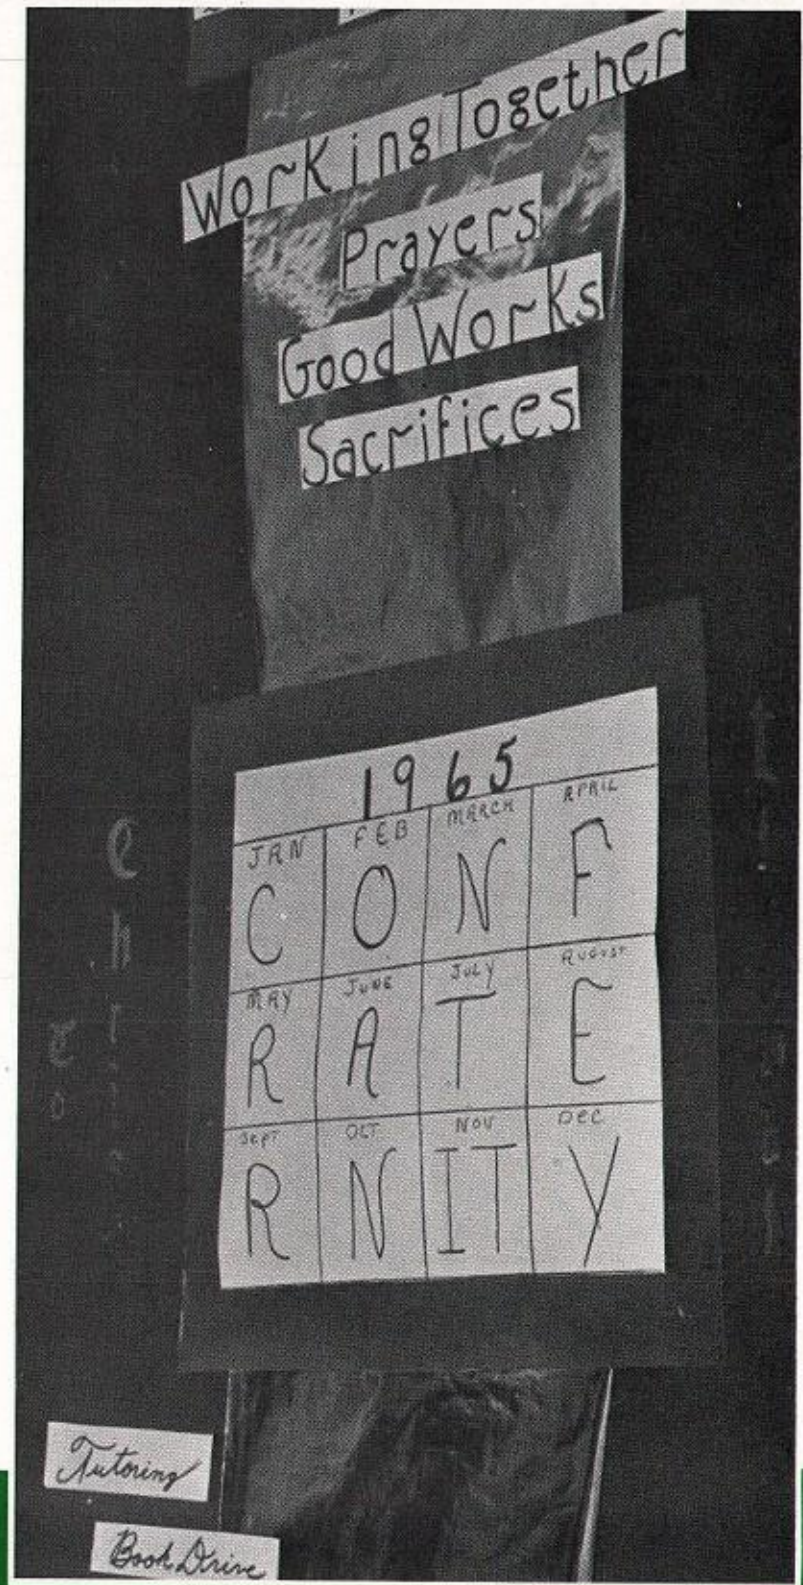

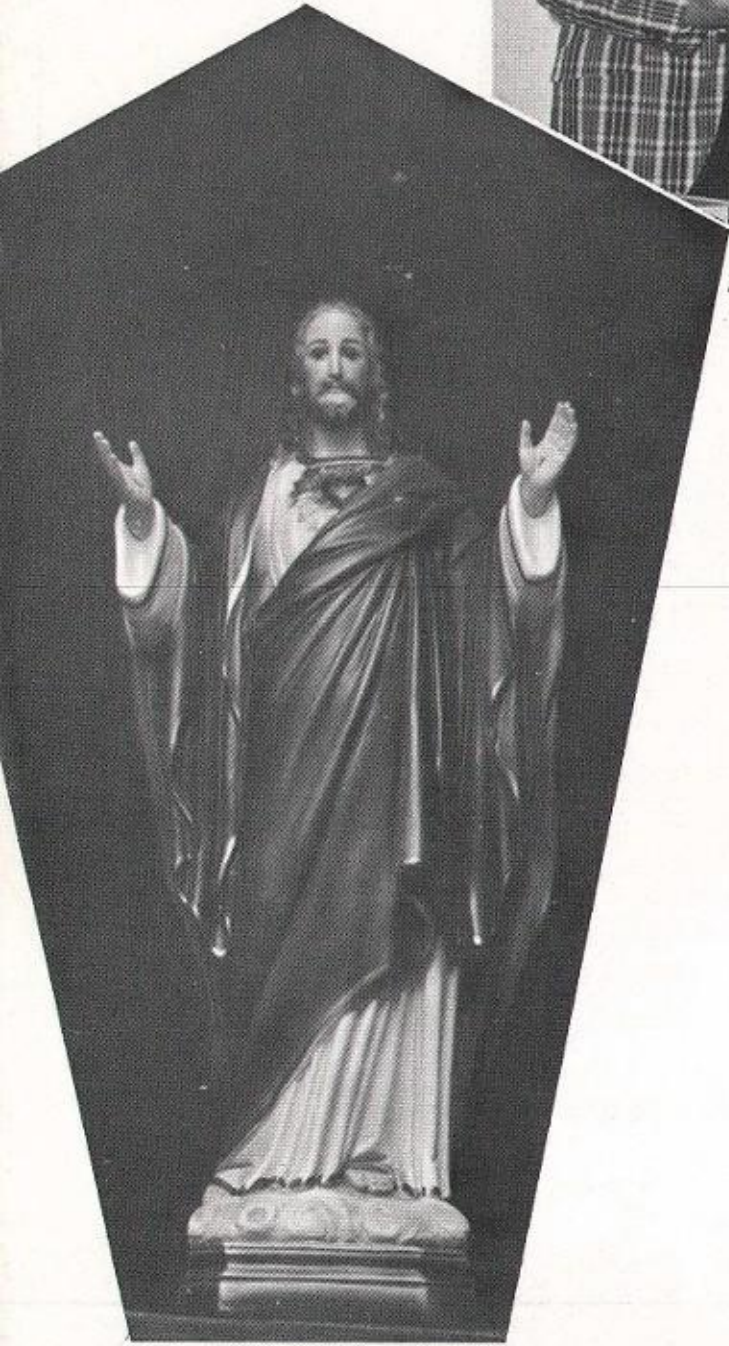

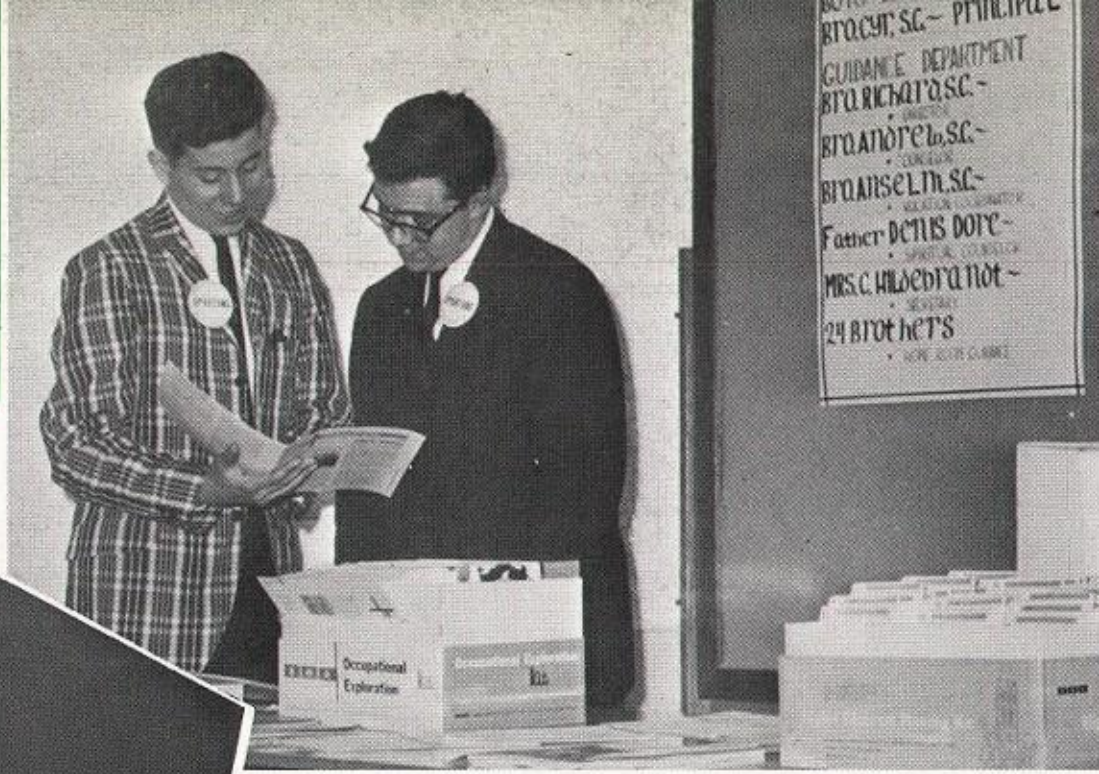

Brother Eric, S.C.

Vocation Day

Pope Paul designated May 2, 1965, as a world day of prayer for vocations to the priesthood and the religious life. In response to this call for prayer, the Brothers of the Sacred Heart held their own Vocation Day. The three schools of the Brothers in the metropolitan area contributed displays and entertainment to explain the role of the Brothers in all facets of the Christian education of youth and to promote priestly and religious vocations.

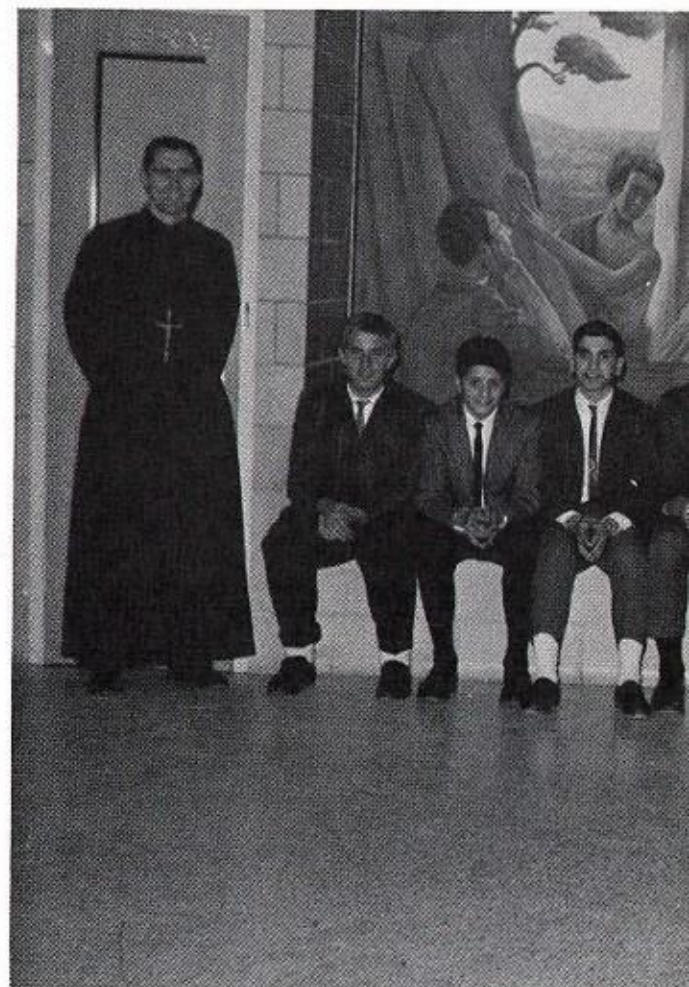

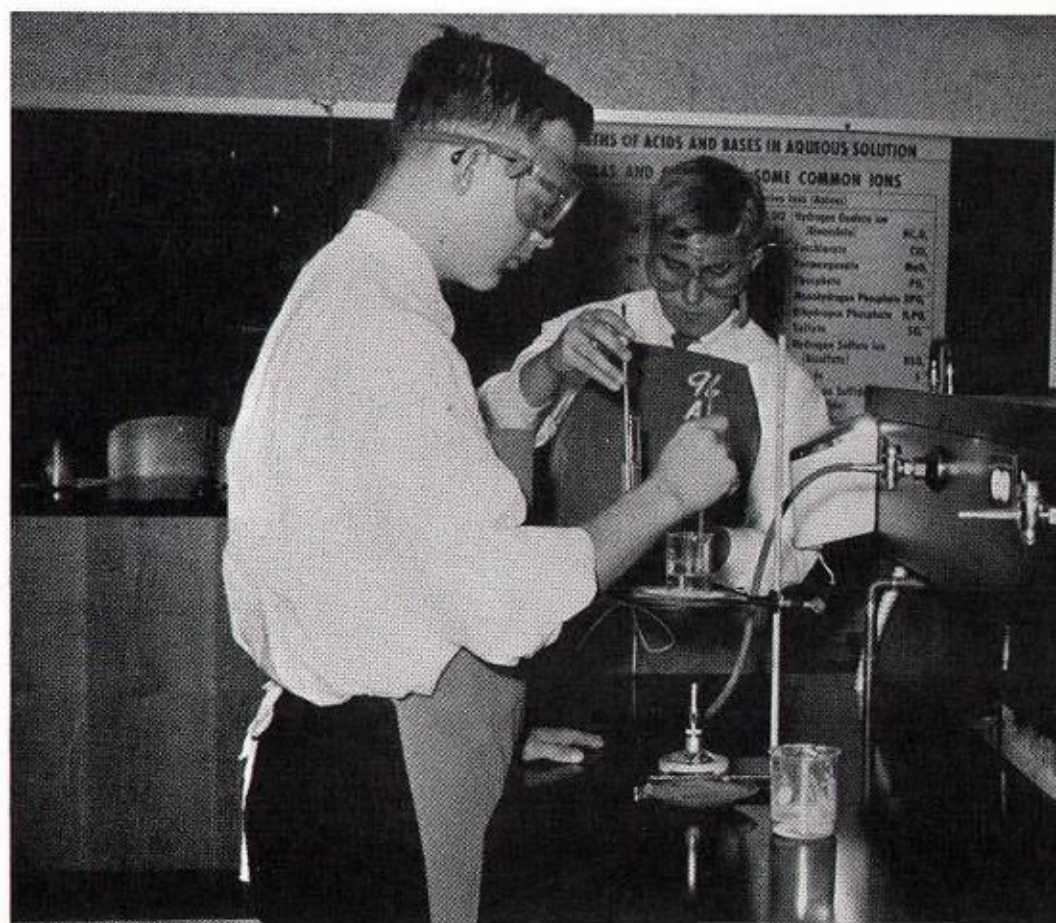

Postulant Master Brother Aidan, S.C., and Senior James Lydon discuss forthcoming events.

The purpose of St. Joseph's Juniorate is to help the young men who enter to develop their vocations as future Brothers of the Sacred Heart. This development must take place in all three spheres of human activity—spiritual, mental, and physical—united into a coherent whole so as to insure the growth of the boys as individuals, as social beings, and as servants of God. Since these boys will be the future educators of our youth, special attention is given to their scholastic training. This training is given in St. Joseph's High, where the boys pursue a regular four-year college preparatory course of studies.

A knowledge of the sciences is a part of the postulants' preparation for their college education.

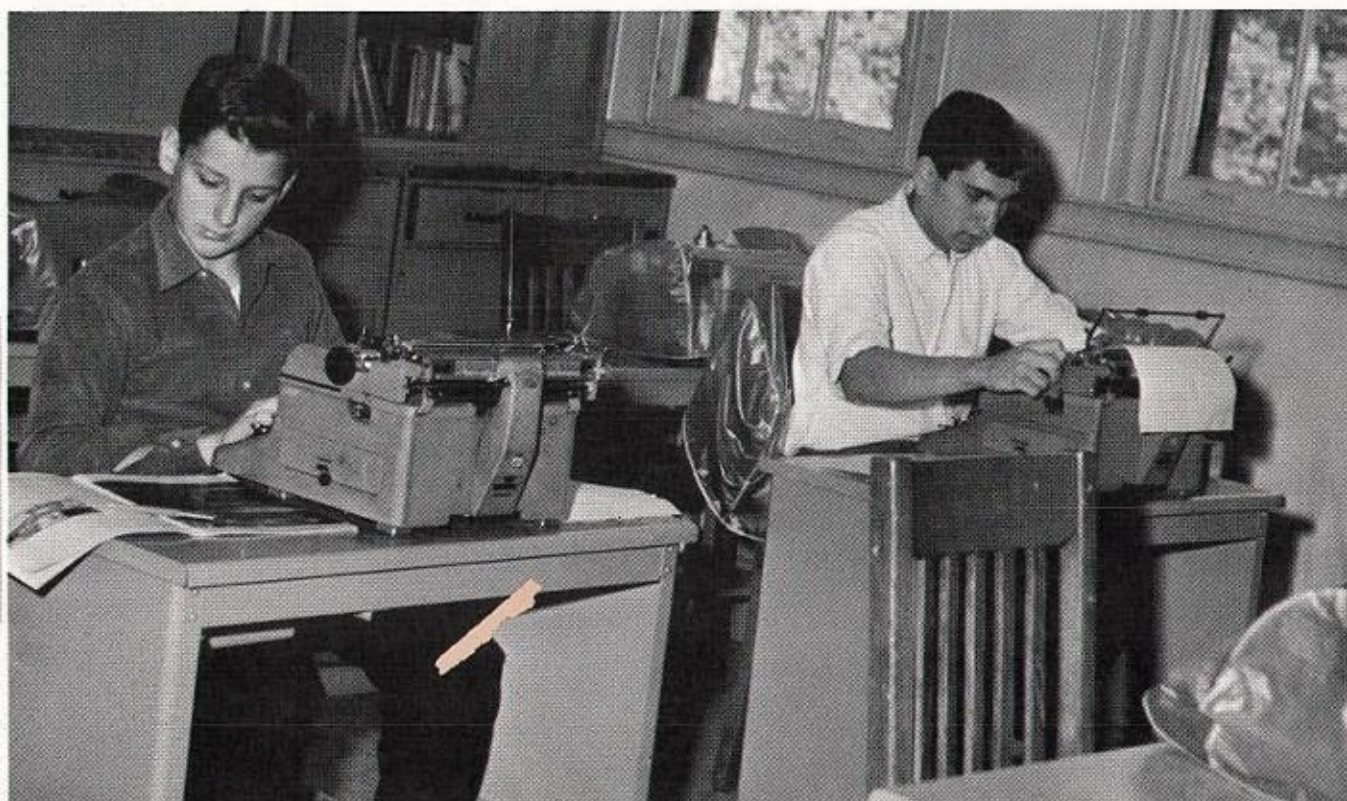

Juniorate

Moorthy Rogers, Robert Gentile, James Lydon, Erick Welsh, Thomas Gaines, and Brother Umba, S.C. (Assistant Postulant Master).

Through prayer and spiritual exercises, the postulants prepare for future life in the Brotherhood.

Thomas Gaines and John Keosseian begin preparations for typing their term papers.

A black and white photograph of a gnarled Jeffrey Pine tree growing on a rocky outcrop against a dark sky. The tree's trunk is thick and twisted, with a prominent root hanging down. The foliage is dense and needle-covered, appearing as a dark mass against the lighter sky.

This is a Jeffrey Pine which grows on the summit of Sentinel Dome in Yosemite National Park. The Jeffrey Pine is a type of tree able to grow where only the barest essentials for survival can be found. Sentinel Dome is a worn outcropping of rock, projecting skyward, lonely and windswept. Although conditions there are far from ideal, this tree has grown, if not straight and tall, then strong and enduring in the face of harsh obstacles.

The Jeffrey Pine brings to our mind the following idea. Life may not be all that we expect it to be—the sun may not be warm, the soil may not be fertile, the wind may not be gentle—but we too can mature strong and enduring, unbroken by the realities we encounter. Grounded in principle, nourished by the grace of God, and warmed by the light of the Church, we can become true men, buffeted, perhaps, by a world not all it should be, but never beaten.

Faculty

Principal
Brother Ronan, S.C., M.A.

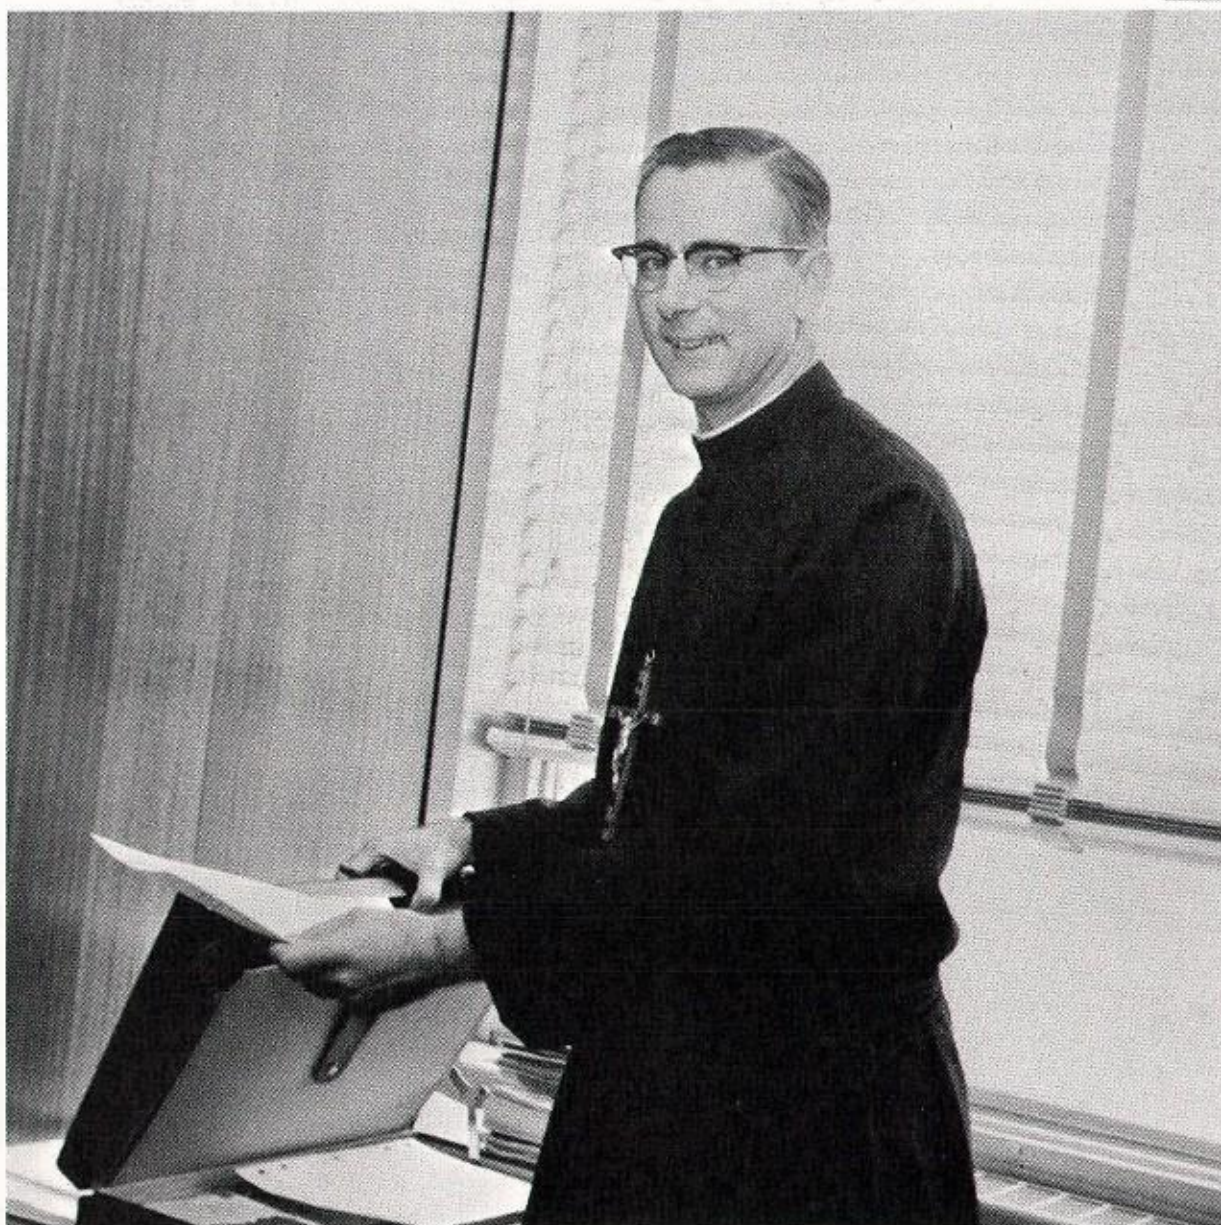

Dear Graduates,

We are very happy to congratulate you and your parents on your graduation from St. Joseph's High School. We hope and pray that all your progress and experience here has worked in an integrated fashion toward your formation into a genuine Christian, an appreciative participant in the life of Christ.

Among the outstanding things you have learned during your years at St. Joseph's are included the following: that religion is not something apart from the practical business of life, reserved for special days and occasions, but that it applies to and gives supernatural meaning to every aspect and activity of life without any exception whatever; that it permeates work and play, politics and social life, physical and spiritual activity; in short, that it has a measureless bearing on all things human.

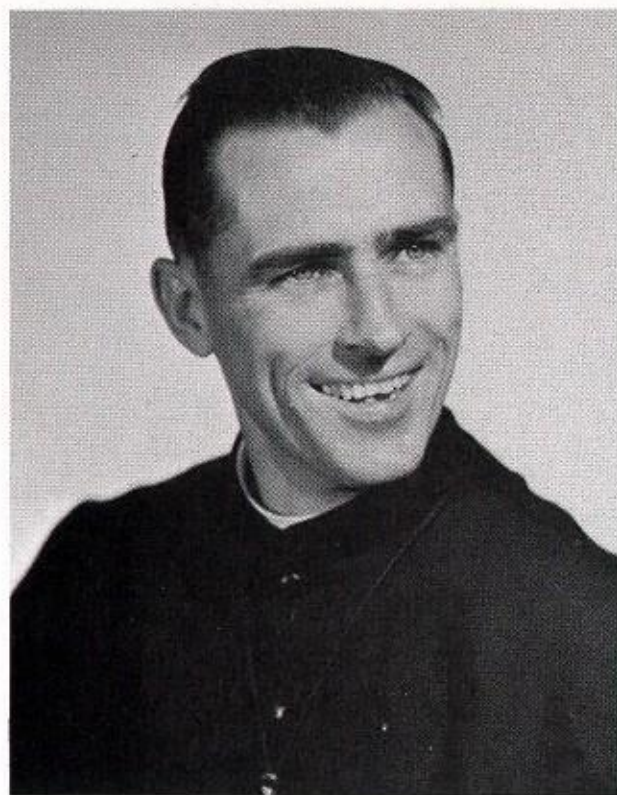

Your education at St. Joseph's has been an excellent one as attested by the devotedness and quality of your teachers, the quality of the curriculum, the wide spectrum of co-curriculars and extracurriculars at your disposal. Nevertheless, its pivotal character has always been that you advance in grace as you mature in age. You must become increasingly more Christlike and Christ's charity must be diffused in whatever walk of adult life you enter. We hope that your years here have brought you some insight into what St. Paul meant by saying, "He that loves his neighbor has fulfilled the law" (Rom. 13:8), and above all, into what Christ meant by His statement that "I am come that they may have life, and may have it more abundantly." (John 10:10) God love you, now and always!

Tom Comollo streaks for bases after hit.

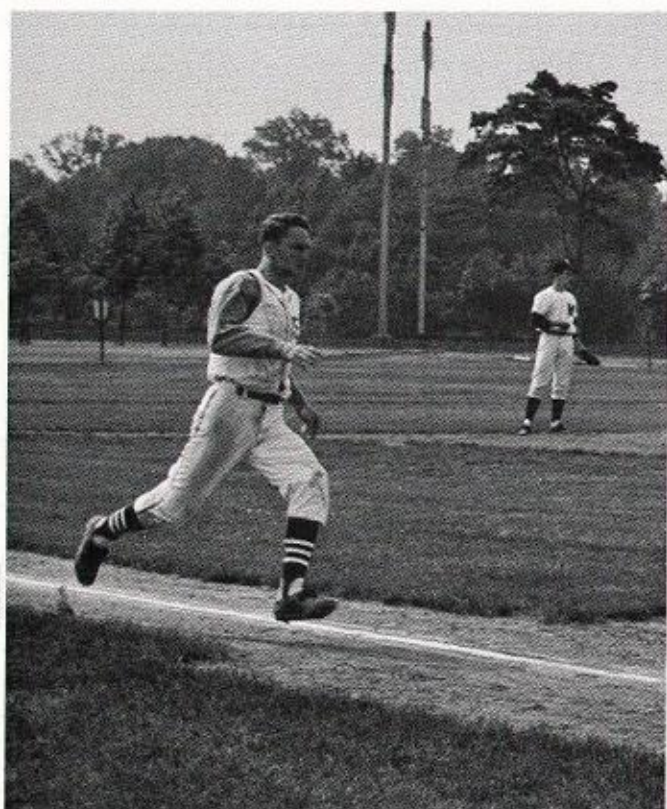

The Varsity Baseball team, under the direction of Mr. William Murray, completed the 1965 season with an 8-10 record. Rich Stamberger and Tom Stine, who accounted for most of the victories, were the team's backbone. Bill Arneth, Tom Comollo, and Mike Rapach, led the offensive attack with their long ball hitting. Jack Hynes set up many runs with his consistent hitting and deceptive base running. Bill Arneth captured honors for the Falcons by being named to the Parochial All-State Team. Mike Rapach, Tom Stine, Eros Siano, and John Garth will be back next year fighting for the Falcons.
